Welcome to Mural Fest

The 40th Anniversary of Murals is something all of Sheffield can be proud of.

I want to celebrate this massive milestone. That is decades of community spirit alive and well as Sheffield comes together once again to deliver this weeklong international event.

Everyone should be proud of their contribution. Your hard work has put Sheffield on the map with this one-of-a-kind event. Sheffield will come alive, and rightly so.

I hope you're all ready to paint the town red!

2026 Murals

1 Portals

by Kristina Greenwood (NSW)

Sponsored by
Roberts Real Estate Nicholson

Imagine a song pulling you from one dimension into another. Traversing space & time. Through memories and magic alike. Music paints us into different worlds, from the artist's perspective into our own colourful interpretations. What a surreal and fantastical escape.

2 Pure Imagination

by Chris Duffy (VIC)
assisted by Karen Waight

Sponsored by Kentish Hills Retreat /
Sheffield Motor Inn

By the use of pure imagination this artwork reminds us that the world is ours to create. Through wonder, knowledge, and fearless dreaming, even the stars become within reach. Childlike curiosity blossoms into infinite possibility, carrying dreams from the pages of a book to the cosmos & beyond.

3 Stuck in the Middle with You

by Steve Monk (VIC)
assisted by Carole Monk

Sponsored by
Cradle Mountain Hotel

A hit song released in 1973. Gaining notoriety and popularity in 1992 when Tarantino used it in his debut film "Reservoir Dogs". In a controversial scene, the antagonist dances and sings.

"Clowns to the left of me,
Jokers to the right,
Here I am,
Stuck in the middle with you."

4

A Voice Made Visible

Wheeze – Eloise Levy (WA)

Sponsored by
The Sheffield Hotel /
TARGA Tasmania

A portrait of Australian musician Stella Donnelly captures a fleeting moment of complete immersion in performance. As the supporting musicians recede into the background, the focus rests on the connection between Stella and her audience. Positioned amongst the crowd, the view experiences the power and vulnerability of her performance.

5

Pōkarekare ana

by Helen English (Rotorua NZ)

Sponsored by The Hub

Bathing in Rotorua's waters, Hinemoa catches the song of a korimako (bellbird), giving flight to Tūtānekai's distant flute, heard from across the lake. Inspired by his forbidden summons, she braves the swim, sparking a legendary love story whose melody still echoes through their descendants.

6

All you need is Love

by Damian Cazaly (VIC)

Sponsored by Kentish Lions Club /
Treloar Civil & Quarries

Inside our home sits a precious relic, my grandfather's record player. This self-portrait in the studio captures a moment in time, soundtracked by a song and an enduring truth: All you need is Love. Within these brushstrokes are the things I love the most: family, nature, music, creativity and connection.

7

Riding on the Horses …yeah

Gren Freeman (TAS)

Sponsored by
Slaters Country Store

The Horses song has always felt like a song of hope, that explores the space between earth and sky where dreams meet courage and where the impossible begins to feel possible.

8

Everything Touched by Love Becomes Yellow

Marco Pennacchia (VIC)

Sponsored by
Kim Johnson & Lindsay Parker /
Sheffield Pioneer Holiday Units

Inspired by Coldplay's 'Yellow', a woman pauses beneath warm golden light, lost in a quiet moment of reflection. As love softens the ordinary and illuminates the familiar, even the simplest moments become extraordinary, reminding us that everything touched by love becomes yellow.

9

Step Right Up

by Kerry Nicholson (QLD)

Sponsored by Davies Design & Construction /
Taz Drone Solutions

This tongue-in-cheek mural features Sheffield local Mark (Doktor Mojo) playfully depicted as a salesman making exaggerated claims about his wares. Mark was chosen because his outstanding appearance and character perfectly align with this eccentric role. Behind him is a backdrop of the artist's favourite album covers.
